PERSONAL PROJECTS

Set It, Lear It, Teach It (03/2021 - Present)
- I have participated in International Women Hackathon organized by TH.0 , me and my team won third place for this project. I worked as a advisor in it. I gave ideas , helped developer team in designing website, collect data like literacy rate of women, the women who would like to learn etc. It was a great experience.
- We have created a website for women where they can exchange skills with each other for free. The thing that make our website different from others is that our mentors do not want any fee as they will volunteer to teach other people.
